

Southern Cup 2018 Hospitality Guide

Introduction

Sevenoaks Knole Academy has been selected to host the event on the weekend of Saturday 24th - Sunday 25th November.

Southern Cup 2018 will be the second QuidditchUK event of the 2018-2019 season with teams not only competing for a place at the 2019 British Quidditch Cup but for the chance to be crowned regional champions and qualify for one of the twelve spots¹ at the European Qualifying Tournament in 2019.

Situated in Sevenoaks, Kent, Sevenoaks Knole Academy is a venue that has excellent facilities including floodlit 3G pitches.

¹ Seven teams from Southern Cup will qualify for the European Qualifying Tournament.

Accommodation

Unfortunately, the committee cannot guarantee the quality or price of any accommodation listed in the table, and so you must do your own research when booking the rooms.

Prices given are for two person rooms per night assuming two nights on Friday 23rd November and Saturday 24th November.

Hotel	Distance from venue	Price
Premier Inn	0.7 Miles	£45
Donnington Park	2 Miles	£45
Knole B&B	2.5 Miles	£60
The Bull Hotel	7.5 Miles	£50
Holiday Inn	8 Miles	£45

Please note that accommodation within walking distance of the venue is limited. Having means to get from your hotel to the venue on the day (car/taxi/bus) is essential. Ensure that you plan this in advance to avoid disruption on the day as late teams will be penalised due to the inability to reorganise the busy tournament structure.

General Advice and Tips

- If you are booking rooms for a large number of people, it is worth finding out whether you can make a deal – for example, to include a free breakfast, or to take 10% of the final price. This can only often be done if you contact the accommodation directly rather than booking through a third-party site. It may also not be possible to do this for larger hotels.
- It is worth booking accommodation from Friday onwards – even though it might be cheaper to only book for Saturday night, the tournament will likely start very early and it is better to already be nearby to ensure that we can stick to the schedule.
- Often sites like www.booking.com are cheaper to book through than on the websites of the accommodation providers themselves.
- If you make a last-minute decision to attend Southern Cup 2018, it is worth checking out the website www.laterooms.com as it often offers hotel accommodation at discounted prices. While this will inevitably be more expensive than booking in advance, and there is no guarantee of availability, it is another option – especially for spectators.
- Be aware of the fine print – it is often the case that smaller hotels refuse to take large bookings online and so you may have to book in smaller groups and under different people/cards.
- Look out for booking charges if you apply online as they may be listed separately from the initial price given.
